DEFENDANTS' NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO DISMISS AND COMPEL
ARBITRATION; MEMORANDUM
OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Hon. Michael G. Fitzgerald

Date: June 9, 2014

Time: 10:00 a.m.

Location: Courtroom 1600

NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION

TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES AND THEIR COUNSEL OF RECORD:

4 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT on June 9, 2014 at 10:00 a.m., or as soon
5 thereafter as the matter may be heard in the United States District Court for the Central 6 District of California, located at 312 N. Spring Street, Los Angeles, California, in
7 Courtroom 1600 before the Honorable Michael G. Fitzgerald, Defendants Girardi |
8 Keese, Thomas V. Girardi, and James G. O'Callahan (collectively "Defendants") will 9 and hereby do move the Court to dismiss Plaintiffs Judith Allen, et al.'s (collectively 10 "Plaintiffs") claims against Defendants and compel Plaintiffs to arbitration pursuant to 11 the arbitration provision in the Retainer Agreement signed by Plaintiffs. In the 12 alternative, Defendants respectfully request that the Court stay the matter pending
13 arbitration.

Defendants base this motion on the Notice of Motion and Motion, the Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the record on file in this matter, and such further evidence and argument as the Court may permit or require prior to or at the time of hearing on this Motion. This Motion is made following the conference of counsel pursuant to Local Rule 7-3 which took place on May 1, 2014.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs Judith Allen, et al. (collectively “Plaintiffs”) are 24 former clients of Defendants Girardi | Keese, Thomas V. Girardi, and James G. O’Callahan (collectively “Defendants”).<sup>1</sup> Mr. Girardi and Mr. O’Callahan are attorneys at the law firm of Girardi | Keese. Defendants represented approximately 138 individuals, including Plaintiffs herein, in pharmaceutical litigation which was consolidated into a Multi-District Litigation (“MDL”) entitled In Re Prempro Products Liability Action, Case No. 03-CV-01507-BRW, MDL 1507. This MDL concerned hormone replacement therapy (“HRT”) wherein Plaintiffs ingested certain hormone therapy medications that allegedly caused cancer and other injuries.

Though the HRT litigation settled in 2011, ongoing medical liens have resulted in delayed distributions of the settlement funds. Plaintiffs have received the majority of their settlement proceeds (94%), but the remaining 6% is outstanding due to resolution of liens and other issues that must be resolved before a final accounting can be performed. The releases to the HRT settlement agreements, which Plaintiffs signed and notarized, indicate that the Hon. Edward A. Panelli (Ret.) shall have authority to allocate the settlement sums.

In retaining legal counsel for the underlying HRT cases which are the basis of Plaintiffs' instant dispute, Plaintiffs entered into Attorney-Client Retainer Agreements ("Retainer Agreements"). The Retainer Agreements contain arbitration agreements which require the Court to compel arbitration in this case. Insofar as Justice Panelli is the sole arbiter of the settlement award allocations, Defendants respectfully request that the <sup>1</sup> Though Plaintiffs' counsel purports to represent 27 former clients of Defendants, they have only filed on behalf of 24 clients in the instant case. Presumably, Plaintiffs did so done in order to preserve diversity jurisdiction, as the 3 clients who are not included as Plaintiffs in this action are California residents, which would destroy the Court's diversity jurisdiction. See infra §§ II.C, V.

1 Court compel arbitration before Justice Panelli. Accordingly, Defendants respectfully
2 request that the Court dismiss Plaintiffs' claims and compel arbitration, or in the 3 alternative, stay the instant action pending the resolution of the mandatory arbitration.
4

5 II. PROCEDURAL AND FACTUAL BACKGROUND

6 A. Plaintiffs Enter into Retainer Agreements Containing Arbitration Agreements
7 in Underlying HRT Litigation

8 Plaintiffs entered into written Attorney-Client Retainer Agreements ("Retainer 9 Agreements") for legal services in connection with the HRT litigation. Declaration of 10 James G. O'Callahan ("O'Callahan Decl.") Ex. 1; see e.g., id. ¶ 2. Paragraph 9 of the 11 Retainer Agreement requires arbitration of any dispute that may arise under the legal 12 presentation of Plaintiffs. Specifically, the arbitration provision provides:

13 AGREEMENT TO ARBITRATE. In the event of a dispute which arises
14 out of or in connection with the Firms [sic] representation of you with 15 respect to this matter, the parties both agree and do herein stipulate to 16 arbitrate any and all such disputes including any claims for professional 17 malpractice, negligence or errors and omissions. The law Firm further 18 agrees to maintain professional liability insurance during the pendency of 19 this matter. Attorneys [sic] agreement to handle this matter is contingent 20 upon clients [sic] agreement to arbitrate.

21 O'Callahan Decl. Ex. 1 ¶ 9 (emphasis in original).

22 Though the Retainer Agreements were signed by Plaintiffs and entered into with 23 the Law Offices of Howard A. Snyder and Gruber & Gruber, Paragraph 7 of the Retainer
24 Agreement provides that association of other counsel such as Defendants herein was 25 agreed to by Plaintiffs. Specifically, Paragraph 7 provides:

26 ASSOCIATION OF COUNSEL - Client herein consents to the association
27 of outside attorney or law firms whom Howard A. Snyder deems necessary 28 and proper for the handling of the case....

1 O'Callahan Dec. Ex. 1 ¶ 7 (emphasis in original).

2 Accordingly, Gruber & Gruber and the Law Offices of Howard A. Snyder
3 associated in Defendants as counsel pursuant to Paragraph 7 of the Retainer Agreements.
4 Gruber & Gruber and the Law Offices of Howard A. Snyder claimed and received 5 $102,024.11 and $63,606.01 in costs, respectively, for a total of $165,630.12.
6 O'Callahan Dec. ¶ 3.

7

8 B. Justice Panelli's Sole Discretion to Make Settlement Awards in HRT
9 Litigation

10 In early 2014, Defendants' counsel began receiving written correspondence from 11 Plaintiffs' counsel. O'Callahan Dec. ¶ 4. Defendants' counsel explained that retired 12 California Supreme Court Justice Edward A. Panelli was appointed for purposes of 13 allocating settlement monies in the HRT litigation. Id. This appointment was 14 incorporated into the settlement agreement. Id. Any plaintiff in the HRT litigation who 15 felt that there were special circumstances associated with their claim was offered the 16 opportunity to meet with Justice Panelli to tell him what was out of the ordinary about 17 their claim. Id. A small number of plaintiffs took advantage of this opportunity. Id.
18 After conducting the hearings, Justice Panelli allocated the settlement monies among the 19 plaintiffs. Id. He also instructed Defendants to hold back 6% of every plaintiff's 20 settlement until all lien issues were resolved, all consents had been received, and the final 21 accounting had been completed. Id.

22 On February 13, 2014, counsel for Defendants sent counsel for Plaintiffs
23 correspondence explaining and attaching, inter alia, a redacted release in the HRT
24 litigation identifying Justice Edward Panelli (Ret.) as having sole discretion to make 25 awards in the HRT litigation. O'Callahan Dec. ¶ 5. Each Plaintiff was required to sign
26 and notarize the release containing this provision. Id. Upon information and belief,
27 Plaintiffs' current counsel also possesses copies of the signed and notarized releases
28 contained within Plaintiffs' files. Id. ¶ 6. Therefore, Plaintiffs are aware both through

1 their signing and notarization of the HRT release and their counsel's correspondence with
2 Defendants' counsel that Justice Panelli had sole discretion to make awards in the HRT
3 litigation.

4

5 C. Plaintiffs File the Instant Case

6 Plaintiffs are suing Defendants because they claim that Defendants wrongfully
7 retained six percent of the entire settlement fund. Plaintiffs allege six causes of action:
8 (1) Breach of Fiduciary Duty; (2) Conversion; (3) Unfair Business Practices (California
9 Business & Professions Code § 17200); (4) Money Had and Received; (5) Accounting;
10 and (6) Declaratory Relief.

11 The basis for jurisdiction before this Court is diversity. Complaint ¶ 39. Plaintiffs 12 allege that they are all residents of non-California states and Defendants are all California
13 citizens. Id. ¶¶ 10-36. Interestingly, Plaintiffs' counsel purports to represent 27 clients.
14 O'Callahan Dec. ¶ 7. However, Plaintiffs' counsel only filed the instant case on behalf of 15 24 clients, none of whom are California citizens. See Complaint ¶¶ 10-33. The three 16 former clients of Defendants for whom Plaintiffs' counsel did not name in this complaint
17 are California citizens, which would destroy the Court's diversity jurisdiction.
18 O'Callahan Dec. ¶ 7.

19

20 D. Counsel Meet and Confer Regarding the Instant Motion

21 Pursuant to Local Rule 7-3, counsel for the parties met and conferred regarding the 22 instant Motion. Plaintiffs' counsel was advised that Defendants would seek to resolve 23 said dispute by arbitration as provided in the Retainer Agreement. O'Callahan Dec. ¶ 8.
24 Plaintiffs' counsel did not agree to arbitration. Plaintiffs' counsel stated she had done
25 some research and would look for it and send it to Defendants' counsel for review prior 26 to Defendants filing the instant motion. Id. To date, Defendants have not received any 27 further communication from Plaintiffs' counsel regarding this research. Id.

28 Plaintiffs refused and still refuse to arbitrate, and instead insist that arbitration is

1 inappropriate despite the clear and express language of the arbitration provision in the 2 Retainer Agreements.

3

4 III. THE COURT SHOULD DISMISS THE COMPLAINT AND COMPEL
5 ARBITRATION

6 A. Venue Is Improper Pursuant to Fed R. Civ. P. 12(b)(3)

7 “A motion to enforce a forum selection clause is treated as a motion to dismiss
8 pursuant to Rule 12(b)(3); pleadings need not be accepted as true, and facts outside the 9 pleadings may be considered.” Doe I v. AOL LLC, 552 F.3d 1077, 1081 (9th Cir. 2009);
10 see also Beauperthuy v. 24 Hour Fitness USA, Inc., 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21214, 2006
11 WL 931756, * 2 (N.D. Cal. April 11, 2006 ) (citing Sparling v. Hoffman Construction 12 Co. Inc., 864 F.2d 635, 637-38 (9th Cir. 1988)) (“Although a party seeking to enforce an 13 agreement to arbitrate typically does so by filing a motion to compel arbitration, courts 14 have recognized that a party may choose instead to bring a motion to dismiss under 15 FRCP 12(b)(6).”). The court “must draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the non-16 moving party and resolve all factual conflicts in favor of the non-moving party.” Murphy
17 v. Schneider Nat'l, Inc., 362 F.3d 1133, 1138 (9th Cir. 2004).

18 Defendants respectfully submit that this Court is the improper venue for Plaintiffs’
19 claims. Instead, the appropriate forum for Plaintiffs to address their claims is in 20 arbitration. Moreover, as explained in greater detail infra § V.E, Defendants submit that 21 arbitration before Justice Panelli is warranted in this instance since he has sole discretion
22 to make awards in the underlying HRT litigation.

23 Plaintiffs entered into Retainer Agreements in relation to the HRT litigation.
24 O’Callahan Dec. Ex. 1. As part of the Retainer Agreement, Plaintiffs expressly agreed, 25 in writing, that “In the event of a dispute which arises out of or in connection with the 26 Firms [sic] representation of you with respect to this matter, the parties both agree and do 27 herein stipulate to arbitrate any and all such disputes including any claims for 28 professional malpractice, negligence or errors and omissions.” Id. ¶ 9 (emphasis in

1 original).

2 A dispute has arisen concerning Plaintiffs' receipt of settlement funds.
3 Specifically, Plaintiffs complain that Defendants wrongfully withheld 6% of the entire 4 settlement fund. See e.g., Complaint ¶ 5. Plaintiffs also claim that Defendants failed to 5 provide Plaintiffs with requested documents or an accounting. Id. ¶ 7. Plaintiffs point to 6 the California Business and Professions Code (Id. ¶¶ 44, 50) and Rules of Professional 7 Conduct (Id. ¶¶ 45-46, 48-49) as bases for their claims. Plaintiffs accuse Defendants of 8 breaching their fiduciary duty as attorneys in the first cause of action (Id. ¶¶ 75-83) and 9 seek declaratory relief.

10 The acts Plaintiffs complain of squarely fall within the arbitration provision within 11 the Retainer Agreements. Plaintiffs' allegations are exactly the type of claims which are 12 contemplated within the arbitration provision's language of "claims for professional 13 malpractice, negligence or errors and omissions." O'Callahan Dec. Ex. 1 ¶ 9. As such, 14 Plaintiffs have chosen to file their claims in the wrong forum and the Court should 15 dismiss Plaintiffs' claims and compel them before the proper tribunal, i.e., arbitration 16 before Justice Panelli. Based upon a straightforward reading of Plaintiffs' allegations and 17 the arbitration agreement, it is clear that the proper venue for Plaintiffs' claims is in 18 arbitration, and not the jurisdiction of this Court.

19

20 B. The Arbitration Agreement Falls Under the FAA

21 The principal purpose of the Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA") "is to ensure that 22 private arbitration agreements are enforced according to their terms." AT&T Mobility
23 LLC v. Concepcion, 131 S.Ct. 1740, 1748, 179 L. Ed. 2d 742 (2011). Section 4 of the 24 FAA requires courts to compel arbitration "upon the motion of either party to the 25 agreement (assuming that the 'making of the arbitration agreement or the failure ... to 26 perform the same' is not at issue)." Id. (quoting 9 U.S.C. § 4). Section 4 of the FAA
27 directs a court to compel arbitration unless the making of an arbitration agreement or one
28 party's failure to arbitrate is in question. Larson v. Speetjens, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS

1 66459, 11-12, 2006 WL 2567873 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 1, 2006) (citing Deloitte Noraudit A/S
 2 v. Deloitte Haskins & Sells, US., 9 F.3d 1060, 1064 (2d Cir. 1993)).

3 Under the FAA, arbitration agreements “shall be valid, irrevocable, and 4 enforceable, save upon such grounds that exist at law or in equity for the revocation of 5 any contract.” 9 U.S.C. at § 2. The FAA’s provisions manifest a “liberal federal policy
 6 favoring arbitration agreements.” AT&T Mobility LLC v. Concepcion, 131 S. Ct. 1740,
 7 1745, 179 L. Ed. 2d 742 (quoting Moses H. Cone Mem’l Hosp. v. Mercury Constr. Corp., 8 460 U.S. 1, 24, 103 S. Ct. 927, 74 L. Ed. 2d 765 (1983)).

9 The court’s role under the FAA is limited to: (1) determining whether a valid
 10 agreement to arbitrate exists and, if it does, (2) deciding whether the agreement
 11 encompasses the dispute at issue. 9 U.S.C. § 4; Simula, Inc. v. Autoliv, Inc., 175 F.3d 12 716, 719-20 (9th Cir. 1999). Both of those determinations can be answered in the 13 affirmative in this case.

14

15 C. The Arbitration Provision Is Valid and Enforceable

16 “[I]n assessing whether an arbitration agreement or clause is enforceable, the Court 17 should apply ordinary state-law principles that govern the formation of contracts.” Davis
 18 v. O’Melveny & Myers, 485 F.3d 1066, 1072 (9th Cir. 2007) (internal citations omitted)
 19 (applying California law to determine whether an arbitration clause was unenforceable 20 due to procedural and substantive unconscionability).

21 Plaintiffs signed the Retainer Agreements in order to be represented by counsel in 22 the HRT litigation. The arbitration agreement is in all capital letters, bolded, and 23 underlined. Regardless of any arguments Plaintiffs may bring regarding the requisite 24 level of sophistication necessary to assent to an arbitration agreement, the arbitration
 25 clause here is in plain language, conspicuous, and on the very same page where Plaintiffs
 26 were required to sign the agreement. The entire Retainer Agreement was two pages long 27 consisting of ten paragraphs written in plain language.

28 Plaintiffs are bound by the Retainer Agreement, and the arbitration provision

1 therein, because they signed it. See e.g., Desert Outdoor Adver. v. Superior Court, 196
2 Cal. App. 4th 866, 873, 127 Cal. Rptr. 3d 158, 163 (2011) (enforcing arbitration
3 provision within fee agreement for legal malpractice claim). Moreover, courts have not 4 hesitated to enforce arbitration clauses within fee agreements in legal malpractice claims
5 against California counsel. See e.g., id.

6

7 D. Plaintiffs' Entire Dispute is Encompassed by the Arbitration Agreement

8 The FAA compels the arbitration of Plaintiffs' claims. The Agreement covers 9 Plaintiffs' dispute because the Agreement broadly encompasses all disputes arising out of 10 or in connection with representation of Plaintiffs with respect to the HRT matter, 11 specifically including any claims for professional malpractice, negligence or errors and 12 omissions.

13 Plaintiffs expressly agreed, in writing, that "to arbitrate any and all such disputes 14 including any claims for professional malpractice, negligence or errors and omissions."
15 Ex. A ¶ 9 (emphasis in original). A dispute has arisen concerning Plaintiffs' receipt of 16 settlement funds and alleged damages stemming from not receiving their files or a final 17 accounting. This dispute is directly related to the Agreement and "claims for professional 18 malpractice, negligence or errors and omissions." As such, it falls squarely within the 19 arbitration agreement that this Court must enforce.

20

21 E. Arbitration Before Justice Panelli Is Appropriate

22 Retired California Supreme Court Justice Edward A. Panelli was appointed for 23 purposes of allocating settlement monies in the HRT litigation, and this was incorporated
24 into the Settlement Agreement. All plaintiffs in the HRT litigation, including any 25 Plaintiff herein, had the opportunity for an individual meeting with Justice Panelli to 26 present special circumstances associated with individual claims. Per the Settlement
27 Agreement, after conducting the hearings, Justice Panelli allocated the settlement monies
28 among the plaintiffs as he was required to do under the Settlement Agreement. He also

1 instructed Defendants to hold back 6% of every plaintiff's settlement until all lien issues
2 were resolved, all consents had been received, and the final accounting had been 3 completed.

4 Justice Panelli is the most appropriate arbitrator in this case. He has authority to 5 award settlements pursuant to the HRT Settlement Agreement. Not only does he have 6 authority, but he has the sole discretion to make such awards. For these reasons, the 7 Court should compel arbitration before Justice Panelli.

8

9 F. Defendants, Though Non-Signatories to the Agreement, May Still Compel
10 Arbitration

11 Anticipating that Plaintiffs may dispute the arbitration agreement because it was 12 within the Retainer Agreements from the Gruber/Snyder firms, Defendants note that a 13 party need not sign an arbitration agreement to be bound by it. See e.g., Larson v.
14 Speetjens, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 66459 at 12, 2006 WL 2567873 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 1, 15 2006). A party can agree to submit to arbitration by means other than personally signing
16 the agreement. Int'l Paper Co. v. Schwabedissen Maschinen & Anlagen GMBH, 206
17 F.3d 411, 416 (4th Cir. 2000). Thus, a nonsignatory of an arbitration agreement may be 18 bound by it under ordinary contract and agency principles. Comer v. Micor, Inc., 436
19 F.3d 1098, 1101 (9th Cir. 2006). “Among these principles are ‘(1) incorporation by 20 reference; (2) assumption; (3) agency; (4) veil-piercing/alter ego; and (5) estoppel.’” Id.
21 The rule is an outgrowth of the strong federal policy favoring arbitration. Letizia v.
22 Prudential Bache Securities, Inc., 802 F.2d 1185, 1188 (9th Cir. 1986). Whether a 23 nonsignatory is bound by the arbitration contract is governed by the federal substantive 24 law on arbitrability. Id. at 1187; Int'l Paper, 206 F.3d at 417 n.4.

25 The court’s analysis in Larson v. Speetjens provides highly convincing reasoning
26 regarding why this Court should compel arbitration in the instant circumstances, even 27 where Defendants were not signatories to the Retainer Agreements but incorporated
28 therein by Paragraph 7:

1 Plaintiffs seek to avoid the burdens of the Agreements—the arbitration
 2 requirement. Plaintiffs’ entire case hinges on the attorney-client relationship
 3 created by the Agreements. Plaintiffs’ claims are inextricably intertwined
 4 with the Agreements, as they are based on Defendants’ alleged breach of 5 their fiduciary duty that was created by the Agreements. They cannot seek 6 to enforce the rights the attorney-client relationship provided them and avoid 7 the requirement that any dispute arising out of the Agreements be arbitrated.
 8 See NORCAL Mutual Ins. Co. v. Newton (2000) 84 Cal. App. 4th 64, 84, 100
 9 Cal. Rptr. 2d 683 (“No person can be permitted to adopt that part of an 10 entire transaction which is beneficial to him/her, and then reject its 11 burdens.”) (internal citation omitted).

12 Larson v. Speetjens, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 66459 at 22-23; see also Brown v.
 13 Gen. Steel Domestic Sales, LLC, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 97832, 42, 2008 WL 2128057
 14 (C.D. Cal. May 19, 2008) (granting non-signatory defendants’ motion to compel 15 arbitration).

16 Plaintiffs knowingly accepted the benefits of the Retainer Agreements, i.e., 17 Defendants’ legal advice regarding Plaintiffs’ potential claims in the HRT litigation. As 18 such, although Defendants did not sign the Retainer Agreements containing the 19 arbitration provision, they are incorporated by reference as associated counsel in 20 Paragraph 7 and have standing to compel arbitration against Plaintiffs for their claims 21 herein.

23 IV. PUBLIC POLICY STRONGLY FAVORS ARBITRATION

24 Public policy considerations dictate that arbitration be ordered where a party has 25 expressly agreed to submit its claims to arbitration. See AT&T Techs., Inc. v.
 26 Communications Workers of America, 475 U.S. 643, 650 (1986). “And if there is a doubt 27 about that matter – about the ‘scope of arbitrable issues’ – we should resolve that doubt in 28 favor of arbitration.” Green Tree Fin. Corp. v. Bazzle, 539 U.S. 444, 452 (2003).

1        Defendants respectfully submit that this Court lacks jurisdiction to entertain the 2 merits of Plaintiffs' claims, as this matter must proceed to arbitration as required by the 3 FAA, 9 U.S.C. § 2, and the language of the arbitration agreement in the Retainer
 4 Agreement. The arbitration provision is enforceable and is not contrary to public policy
 5 in this case. Plaintiffs were fully informed as to the scope of the arbitration agreement.
 6 The plain language of the agreement is clear and broad in scope in applying arbitration
 7 "[i]n the event of a dispute which arises out of or in connection with the Firms [sic]
 8 representation of you with respect to this matter, ... including any claims for professional 9 malpractice, negligence or errors and omissions." The Retainer Agreement further 10 notified Plaintiffs of the arbitration provision with the conspicuous language above the 11 signature line.

12       The language of the arbitration agreement is sufficiently clear and broad to 13 encompass arbitration of claims alleging legal malpractice, including those alleged by 14 Plaintiffs here. As noted above, the relevant language of the arbitration provision is 15 triggered "[i]n the event of a dispute which arises out of or in connection with the Firms 16 [sic] representation of you with respect to this matter, ... including any claims for 17 professional malpractice, negligence or errors and omissions." Here, Plaintiffs assert 18 such claims which clearly implicate the arbitration agreement.

19       Plaintiffs' claims based upon legal malpractice are governed by the contractual 20 arbitration agreement. Where a court determines that claims are subject to arbitration, the 21 court must determine whether to stay the litigation or dismiss it without prejudice. See
 22 e.g., MCA Fin. Group, Ltd. v. Gardere Wynne Sewell, LLP, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS
 23 22611, 20, 2007 WL 951959 (D. Ariz. Mar. 23, 2007). Since all of Plaintiffs' claims are 24 subject to mandatory arbitration, it is appropriate to dismiss Plaintiffs' claims. Id. (citing 25 Sparling v. Hoffman Constr. Co., 864 F.2d 635, 638 (9th Cir. 1988) (dismissing 26 plaintiff's claims upon determining the claims are subject to contractual arbitration)).

27       Not only is this case particularly apt for arbitration because of the fact that 28 Plaintiffs agreed to arbitration in the Retainer Agreements, but the key documents

1 underlying Plaintiffs' claims are strictly confidential. For example, the Master
2 Settlement Agreement and Confidential Release contain confidentiality provisions and 3 are marked strictly confidential due to the nature of the HRT settlements.

5 V. THE COURT MUST DISMISS THE COMPLAINT BECAUSE
6 PLAINTIFFS FAIL TO JOIN NECESSARY PARTIES

7 A complaint must be dismissed for its failure to join a necessary party under 8 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 19. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(7). Rule 12(b)(7) permits 9 a defendant to challenge (by pre-answer motion or as an affirmative defense in the 10 answer) the complaint's failure to join "persons whose presence is needed for a just 11 adjudication" under Rule 19. See Ocean Marine Ins. Co. v. Wickland Corp., 1995 U.S.
12 Dist. LEXIS 3085, 20-21, 1995 WL 125478 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 8, 1995). Rule 19(a) 13 provides three circumstances where a person must be joined if feasible, i.e., a necessary 14 party:

15 (1) if complete relief cannot be accorded among those already parties in the 16 person's absence . Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(a)(1).

17 (2) when the person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is 18 so situated that the disposition of the action in the person's absence may as a practical 19 matter impair or impede the person's ability to protect that interest. Fed. R. Civ. P.
20 19(a)(2)(i).

21 (3) if the person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so 22 situated that the disposition of the action in the person's absence leaves any of the 23 persons already parties subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or 24 otherwise inconsistent obligations by reason of the claimed interest. Fed. R. Civ. P.
25 19(a)(2)(ii).

26 The second and third circumstances share a common preliminary requirement: the 27 person must claim an interest relating to the subject of the action. Fed. R. Civ. P.
28 19(a)(2). If any one of these three circumstances applies, the person is a necessary party.

1     Shimkus v. Gersten Cos., 816 F.2d 1318, 1322 (9th Cir. 1987); see also Altmann v.
2     Republic of Aus., 142 F. Supp. 2d 1187, 1210-11 (C.D. Cal. 2001).

3                 Gruber and Snyder are necessary parties as described in Rule 19(a). Plaintiffs list
4     the two firms as “Associated Plaintiffs’ Counsel” on Plaintiffs’ Notice of Interested
5     Parties. [ECF No. 4]. When addressed at the Local Rule 7-3 conference, Plaintiffs’
6     counsel refused to explain whether this referred to Plaintiffs’ counsel in the instant
7     litigation or Plaintiffs’ counsel in the underlying HRT litigation. O’Callahan Dec. ¶ 8.
8     Since Gruber and Snyder received sums for the costs they claimed, their absence exposes
9     Defendants to a substantial risk of incurring multiple liability. In addition, a judgment
10    rendered in Gruber and Snyder’s absence would adjudicate rights that might be adverse 11    to them.

12                 The current parties cannot receive the complete relief sought without the presence
13    of other parties, i.e., the Gruber and Snyder law firms. Furthermore, Defendants may be 14    subject to multiple or inconsistent obligations without the joinder of the Gruber and 15    Snyder law firms insofar as they received sums that are to be part of the final accounting 16    in this matter.

17                 Pursuant to Rule 19(b), this action should not proceed in Gruber and Snyder’s 18    absence. There is no mechanism by which the Court can shape relief to avoid the 19    prejudice Defendants face here. Further, arbitration provides an adequate alternative
20    forum through which Plaintiffs can pursue a remedy. Since joinder of Gruber and Snyder 21    is required, and since joinder of these parties would destroy diversity jurisdiction, the 22    Court should dismiss with prejudice Plaintiffs’ claims for nonjoinder of parties .

23

24                 VI. IF THE COURT DOES NOT DISMISS PLAINTIFFS’ CLAIMS
25                 OUTRIGHT, THE COURT SHOULD STAY THE ENTIRE ACTION
26                 PENDING ARBITRATION

27                 “If the court finds that an arbitration clause is valid and enforceable, the court 28    should stay or dismiss the action to allow the arbitration to proceed.” Kam-Ko Bio-

1 Pharm Trading Co. Ltd-Australasia v. Mayne Pharma (USA), 560 F.3d 935, 940 (9th Cir.
2 2009) (citing Nagrampa v. MailCoups, Inc., 469 F.3d 1257, 1276-77 (9th Cir. 2006) (en
3 banc). The FAA requires federal courts to enforce arbitration agreements and to stay any 4 litigation that contravenes such agreements. See e.g., Gonsalves v. Infosys Techs., Ltd., 5 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 79683, 14, 2010 WL 3118861 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 5, 2010). The 6 Court's inherent power to control its docket includes the power to stay pending
7 arbitration. Moses H. Cone Mem'l Hosp. v. Mercury Constr. Corp., 460 U.S. at 20 n. 23, 8 103 S.Ct. 927, 74 L. Ed. 2d 765.

9

10 VII. CONCLUSION

11 For the aforementioned reasons, Defendants respectfully request that the Court
12 dismiss the complaint in its entirety with prejudice and compel arbitration before Justice 13 Panelli, or in the alternative, stay this matter pending arbitration.
